POCKLINGTON PREP SCHOOL

RECEPTION TO YEAR 6

Structure of Reception to Year 2

Pupils are based in form groups, with the class teacher providing the very best academic provision and pastoral care. A focus on personalised learning and small group work allows every child to develop at pace and to receive additional support or challenge, as appropriate, to allow them to thrive.

Curriculum

A vibrant and memorable curriculum, which is based on providing meaningful 'real-life' experience, gives children a real sense of purpose and allows them to see the value in their learning. Specialist teaching in sport, music, swimming and the arts provides a breadth of experience. The Forest School and Mind, Body and Soil programmes further develop skills for life.

Teaching facilities

A carefully planned learning environment enhances the curriculum and younger children enjoy access to the outdoor space, with a dedicated Early Years outdoor classroom. Children also benefit from the use of all Foundation facilities, including the sports facilities, theatre and swimming pool. Specialist music teaching is also available for those children whose parents wish them to have individual lessons.

Progression into Year 3 is automatic, providing that the Prep School continues to be able to meet a child's needs.

Structure of Years 3 to 6

Pupils are based in form groups which are both teaching and pastoral units. The form teacher takes primary interest in the pastoral and academic welfare of their pupils.

Pupils are taught in form groups for all lessons. Sometimes groups are taught at different paces within classes to ensure individual needs within a class are met. We also offer one-to-one and small group support where needed.

Curriculum

We offer a broad curriculum that balances academic study with skills, creativity and enjoyment. Our 'Curiosity Project' curriculum has been written by staff and is unique to Pocklington Prep School. We encourage children to be inquisitive and productive through their learning. We deliver this curriculum through the 'Curiosity Questions' to take the children's learning in engaging and innovative directions.

Year 6 pupils will normally progress to Year 7, provided there are no concerns about a child's behaviour or ability, which have been previously communicated to parents.

The house system

All pupils are allocated to one of four houses: Rievaulx, Jervaulx, Fountains or Byland. Houses are involved in competitions in art, music, drama, creative writing, sport and fundraising activities.

All our boarders are accommodated in our homely, welcoming boarding houses; Fenwick-Smith House for boys and Faircote House for girls. Our junior boarders from Years 5 to 10, also enjoy their own space in the junior boarding hub, the Hive@Dolman where junior boarders from both houses can spend time in an area just for them, with a programme tailored to their needs.

Co-curricular opportunities

Break times and the extended day allow for many clubs and activities. We encourage children to experience as much as possible to broaden their horizons. For children in Reception to Year 2 there are after-school clubs from Monday to Thursday, ending at 4.30pm. For pupils in Years 3 to 6, the after-school clubs continue until 4.45pm.

“In the early years, pupils make rapid progress in a stimulating environment... highly skilled practitioners deliver a broad and stimulating programme of activities. This promotes children's rapid progress across all areas of learning.”

LOWER SCHOOL

YEAR 7 AND YEAR 8

Structure of Year 7 and 8

Lower School houses

All pupils are allocated to one of the four Lower School day houses (Dolman, Hutton, Gruggen, Wilberforce).

The housemaster or housemistress is the teacher primarily involved in the academic and pastoral progress of each member of their house. Once in Year 8, each pupil also enjoys the support and guidance of a house tutor who works closely with both the day and boarding pastoral team. The Head of Lower School oversees the academic and pastoral progress of all day and boarding pupils.

All our boarders are accommodated in our homely, welcoming boarding houses; Fenwick-Smith House for boys and Faircote House for girls. Our junior boarders from Years 5 to 10, also enjoy their own space in the junior boarding hub, the Hive@Dolman where junior boarders from both houses can spend time in an area just for them, with a programme tailored to their needs. There are a variety of boarding options available to Lower School pupils (see page 11 for more information).

Teaching groups

Class sizes are small, allowing teachers to personalise learning and ensure individual needs are met. In Years 7 and 8, teaching in all subjects is in mixed ability form groups.

In Years 7 and 8, pupils study two of the following modern languages: French, German and Spanish. Pupils are offered the opportunity to select their first choice of language; the second is selected by the School.

“The School delivers a comprehensive and well-structured curriculum that reflects the core values of courage, truth, and trust. These principles are well established in daily school life.”

Pupils joining Pocklington School for the first time are allocated to one of four day houses (Dolman, Gruggen, Hutton, Wilberforce).

All our boarders are accommodated in our homely, welcoming boarding houses; Fenwick-Smith House for boys and Faircote House for girls. Pocklington School Sixth Form

Age 16 to 18 years

SIXTH FORM

YEAR 12 TO YEAR 13

Structure of Sixth Form

Sixth Form houses

The house structure in the Sixth Form is the same as in the Middle School. All pupils joining the Sixth Form from other schools are allocated to one of the four Sixth Form Day houses (Dolman, Gruggen, Hutton, Wilberforce).

Sixth Form boarders entering Pocklington School will join either Fenwick-Smith House (boys) or Faircote House (girls). There are a variety of boarding options available to Sixth Form pupils (see page 11 for more information).

The Head of Sixth Form oversees the academic and pastoral progress of all day and boarding students.

Teaching groups

Class sizes are small, allowing teachers to personalise learning and ensure individual needs are met. Subjects are taught by staff with specialist expertise.

Curriculum

All students choose three courses from our suite of A levels and BTECs.

Students also choose one of a range of enrichment qualifications as their fourth course choice. In some cases, taking a fourth A level or AS level may be an appropriate option.

Students opting to select further mathematics should note that they are required to select two additional A level subjects to complete their subject options. This will result in four A levels: mathematics, further mathematics and two others.

All students have daily pastoral time, including assemblies, house time, tutor group time and one-to-one tutorials. Sixth Form students also have a weekly games afternoon and, in the Lower Sixth, participate in the Thursday afternoon Community Action programme or self-organised work experience. They also have allocated study time in the Library and Sixth Form Centre.

“Pupils engage in volunteering, charity work and community outreach. They enjoy helping others.”

* Sport options can vary in each term but may include badminton, basketball, cross country, football, golf, personal fitness, running, squash and swimming.

When students have individual skills in a particular sport, we aim to support their development in this area via our strength and conditioning programme and flexibility with external providers.

Sixth Form enrichment qualifications

All students have the opportunity to complete an enrichment qualification, in addition to their three A levels or BTECs. In some cases, taking a fourth A level or AS level may be an appropriate option, although most pupils will select from the options outlined below. The breadth of these opportunities will help students to develop key skills, both as learners and as individuals ready to enter the future workplace.

The Extended Project Qualification

This allows students a free choice of subject on which to complete a major piece of evaluative research in an area of personal interest. With its emphasis on process, presentation and report, it provides a context for developing independent learning, critical thinking and long-term planning skills. The EPQ carries the same weight as half an A level subject and is highly regarded by universities, including Oxbridge.

Sports Leadership Level 3 Qualification

This is a nationally recognised qualification which prepares students to lead groups of children and adults in sport and recreational activities as well as teaching leadership skills such as organisation, planning, communication and teamwork.

Home Cooking Skills (BTEC Level 1)

This is a single unit BTEC qualification designed by Jamie Oliver in conjunction with Pearson qualifications. It is a hands-on course that helps students to develop the knowledge, understanding and confidence they need to cook simple, nutritious meals at home and how to economise when planning a meal.

Life Skills from the Perspectives of Psychology and Counselling

This course provides students with a theoretical and practical introduction to skills to enable them to engage with the wider world of relationships. It is designed for those in Sixth Form who would like to develop their own self-awareness, develop people skills, grow in their support of others, and may have an interest in working in a psychological capacity in the future.

Regardless of the direction a student might take in their career, they will require skills to naturally engage with individuals and groups. The learning gleaned from the psychological and counselling world, enables students to develop skills for clear, effective communication.

Personal development

Co-curricular opportunities and the POCK Challenge

Our co-curricular programme plays a key role in the all-round education we offer our pupils. On starting their journey in Senior School, children are presented with the 'POCK Challenge', which invites pupils to immerse themselves in at least one club or activity from each of the following categories: physical, outreach, creative and knowledge.

Our range of clubs and activities is extensive. Whether your child discovers a love of golf, judo, or chess, or they find their place in the debating society, or have an eye for fashion in the design club, we recognise that their involvement in co-curricular activities is key to helping them discover their passions and nurture their talents. In turn, this will help upskill and empower them, as well as encourage them to develop the soft skills required for life during and after school.

As pupils progress through Pocklington School, they can enrol in the Duke of Edinburgh's (DofE) Award at bronze, silver and gold levels, as well as becoming a part of our nationally recognised Combined Cadet Force (CCF), which comprises both Army and RAF sections. Both the DofE and CCF programmes form the pillars of our co-curricular offering as they develop traits of resilience, collaboration, and discipline in a practical and unique way.

There is something for everyone in our co-curricular programme and we encourage each pupil to immerse themselves in the huge range of clubs on offer - you never know where it might lead!

“The School offers a wide range of co-curricular activities that pupils value... In participating, pupils gain a sense of self-esteem and confidence... the extensive opportunities offered support pupils to further develop their interests in creative, academic and physical activities... This impacts positively on pupils' wellbeing and wider development.”

University and careers advice

All pupils from Year 7 onwards participate in a structured programme of careers education as part of the tutor programme within Pocklington School.

Individual meetings with the Careers and University Adviser are offered to all Year 11 pupils. These will cover post-16 subject choices, career ideas and options post-16 and post-18. These discussions are to help pupils define areas of career interest and the pathways to achieving them. Pupils throughout the other year groups can arrange individual interviews as required to receive advice and information to help them reach their career goals.

In addition to administering the UCAS application process, the Careers and University Adviser works with individual students and groups in the Sixth Form to offer advice, guidance and extensive support with their post-18 decisions, which includes both university and apprenticeship pathways. The Careers and University Adviser holds one-to-one meetings with every Upper Sixth student to discuss their pathways.

Specialist support is provided for Oxbridge candidates, for students applying to study medicine, veterinary medicine, or dentistry, students looking to study abroad and those who are planning to take a gap year. The service is run by a qualified Careers and University Adviser, who is available at Year 9 and above Parents' Evenings and on request. Students also have access to the Old Pocklingtonian and Pock Connects Network, to further support their career journeys and beyond.

To contact the Careers and University Adviser, email: jonesg@pocklingtontschool.com

“The OP network was absolutely fantastic. I contacted them asking for help looking for a placement as I was struggling to find one. And sure enough, they found one that was absolutely perfect for me. I thoroughly recommend contacting them.”

Fees

Overview of fees

Fees are averaged over the entire course of learning at the Pocklington Prep School and Pocklington School. Fees are calculated with reference to the expected pupil cost over the whole academic year: costs are fixed for that year whether a pupil is present or on leave preparing for GCSE, or A level and BTEC examinations. Fees are charged termly in advance in three equal instalments. GCSE, A level and BTEC students do not return to school after their last examination, but they can do so if they wish to participate in sport and other school activities. Pupils may also attend to use study facilities during periods of exam leave: staff are available to help with exam preparation with individual advice or by means of tutorials and revision sessions.

Governors reserve the right to alter the amount of any fee or charge with one term's notice. A full term's notice must be given, in writing, before the withdrawal of a pupil or a change of status from boarding to day pupil. In default of such notice one term's fees are chargeable.

Payment of fees

Terms applying to payment of fees are given in the parent-school agreement. The following should however be noted:

- All fees are charged termly in advance and accounts are payable on or before the first day of the term. Optional extras are charged to the account for the term following that in which the charges are incurred.
- Parents can elect to use the Pocklington Monthly Payment Plan to pay by direct debit. The fees for the year, including optional extras, can be paid in 10 monthly instalments. Payments begin in July before the start of the academic year in question. Alternatively, parents can opt for a Termly Payment Plan where fees are collected at the beginning of each term. Those wishing to use either of these services should contact the Admissions Officer.
- Fees can also be paid monthly by direct debit via third party providers. This enables the Foundation to collect the full fee at the beginning of each term and parents pay the provider via a monthly direct debit. A service charge is made by the companies and there is no long-term commitment to the scheme.
- It may be possible to arrange for lump sum payments to meet fees over periods of more than six terms.

Further details of any of these methods of payment are available from the Admissions Officer.

Fee discounts (including sibling and forces)

Sibling discounts are offered to families with three or more children concurrently attending Pocklington and Pocklington Prep Schools. This will be applied to the invoice of the eldest child. The annual discount rates are:

- 10% reduction for the third child
- 12.5% reduction for the fourth child
- 20% reduction for the fifth child.

Discounts are only available to parent(s) with full financial responsibility for the children. Please note that discounts cannot be combined.

Forces and Diplomatic Corps discount

A 10% discount is offered to pupils whose parents are members of the Armed Forces. Pocklington School is classed as a senior school from the age of 11 for the purposes of CEA. Further details are available from the Admissions Officer.

For up-to-date information on day and boarding fees and boarding options, please visit the Pocklington School website: www.pocklingtonschool.com/fees

They may choose to stay for an optional Friday night and Saturday enrichment programme, with lunch, at a reduced loyalty rate.

Part-time boarding

Our part-time boarding package offers flexibility to choose any one, two or three nights (Monday to Thursday) to suit your family circumstances. Pupils stay for lunch on Saturday before heading home for the weekend to enjoy some quality family time. The fee for this service is in addition to the day fee and an additional excursion charge may apply in some instances.

Supporting families beyond the normal school day

Pocklington Prep School after-school care

Parents of Pocklington Prep School pupils who would like their children to stay in school after normal closing time can make use of the after-school care facility either on a regular or drop-in basis. Families can arrange after-school care as an additional service to the day fee, with the cost added to the termly bill. Each session is bookable in advance.

There are separate supervised sessions for Prep and Pre-Prep pupils. After-school care at Pocklington Prep cares for children between 3.50pm and 5.50pm in a safe, fun and familiar environment. Additionally, several free and 'paid for' clubs are available to all pupils Monday to Thursday. These are booked at the start of each term.

Lower School prep room

This provides a supervised quiet room for Lower School pupils until 5.00pm. Attendance is compulsory for all Lower School pupils who cannot be collected at 3.50pm and who are not participating in after-school activities. Pupils who need to stay later can work in the library until 5.45pm, provided parents register with the Librarians in advance.

Middle School and Sixth Form

Middle School pupils and Sixth Form students who cannot be collected at 5.00pm must report to the library and can stay until 5.45pm. Parents must register in advance with the Librarians for this service.

Extended day boarding for day pupils

This allows pupils from Year 5 upwards to stay at school after 5.45pm and can be arranged for up to four evenings per week, Monday to Thursday or occasional evenings as required. Pupils are assigned to the appropriate boarding house and may join boarders for breakfast before school starts, and evening meals, study and boarding activities before going home by 8.00pm. The fee for this service is in addition to the day fee. Further details regarding charges and billing are available from the Admissions Officer.

English as an additional language (EAL)

English lessons are available to pupils whose first language is not English. Any EAL requirements will be assessed on the pupil's arrival at Pocklington School. This is an internal assessment carried out by our EAL Co-ordinator. If EAL lessons are necessary, parents/guardians will be notified. EAL lessons are an additional charge and will be added to the end-of-term bill.

Old Pocklingtonian Association lifetime membership

The Old Pocklingtonian Association (OPA) was established over 100 years ago for former pupils and has traditionally provided a link to Pocklington School once pupils have left, through regular sporting and social events as well as offering career and mentoring support for current and former pupils.

Membership of the OPA is automatically included as part of the Foundation's educational package for Pocklington Prep School and Pocklington School pupils. This means that all pupils will become lifetime members of the OPA when they leave the Foundation. From the moment pupils join Pocklington, they become part of the Foundation's extended family, knowing that as an OP they will remain connected to Pocklington School throughout their lives and will have instant access to a ready-made support network of OPs who have gone before them.

Further details about the Association and membership benefits are available from the OP Liaison Officer.

Music scholarships

The Music Scholarship Programme aims to recognise and develop musical excellence, develop performance and compositional skills and develop the necessary attributes to prosper as a musician in a demanding competitive field as a professional or amateur.
